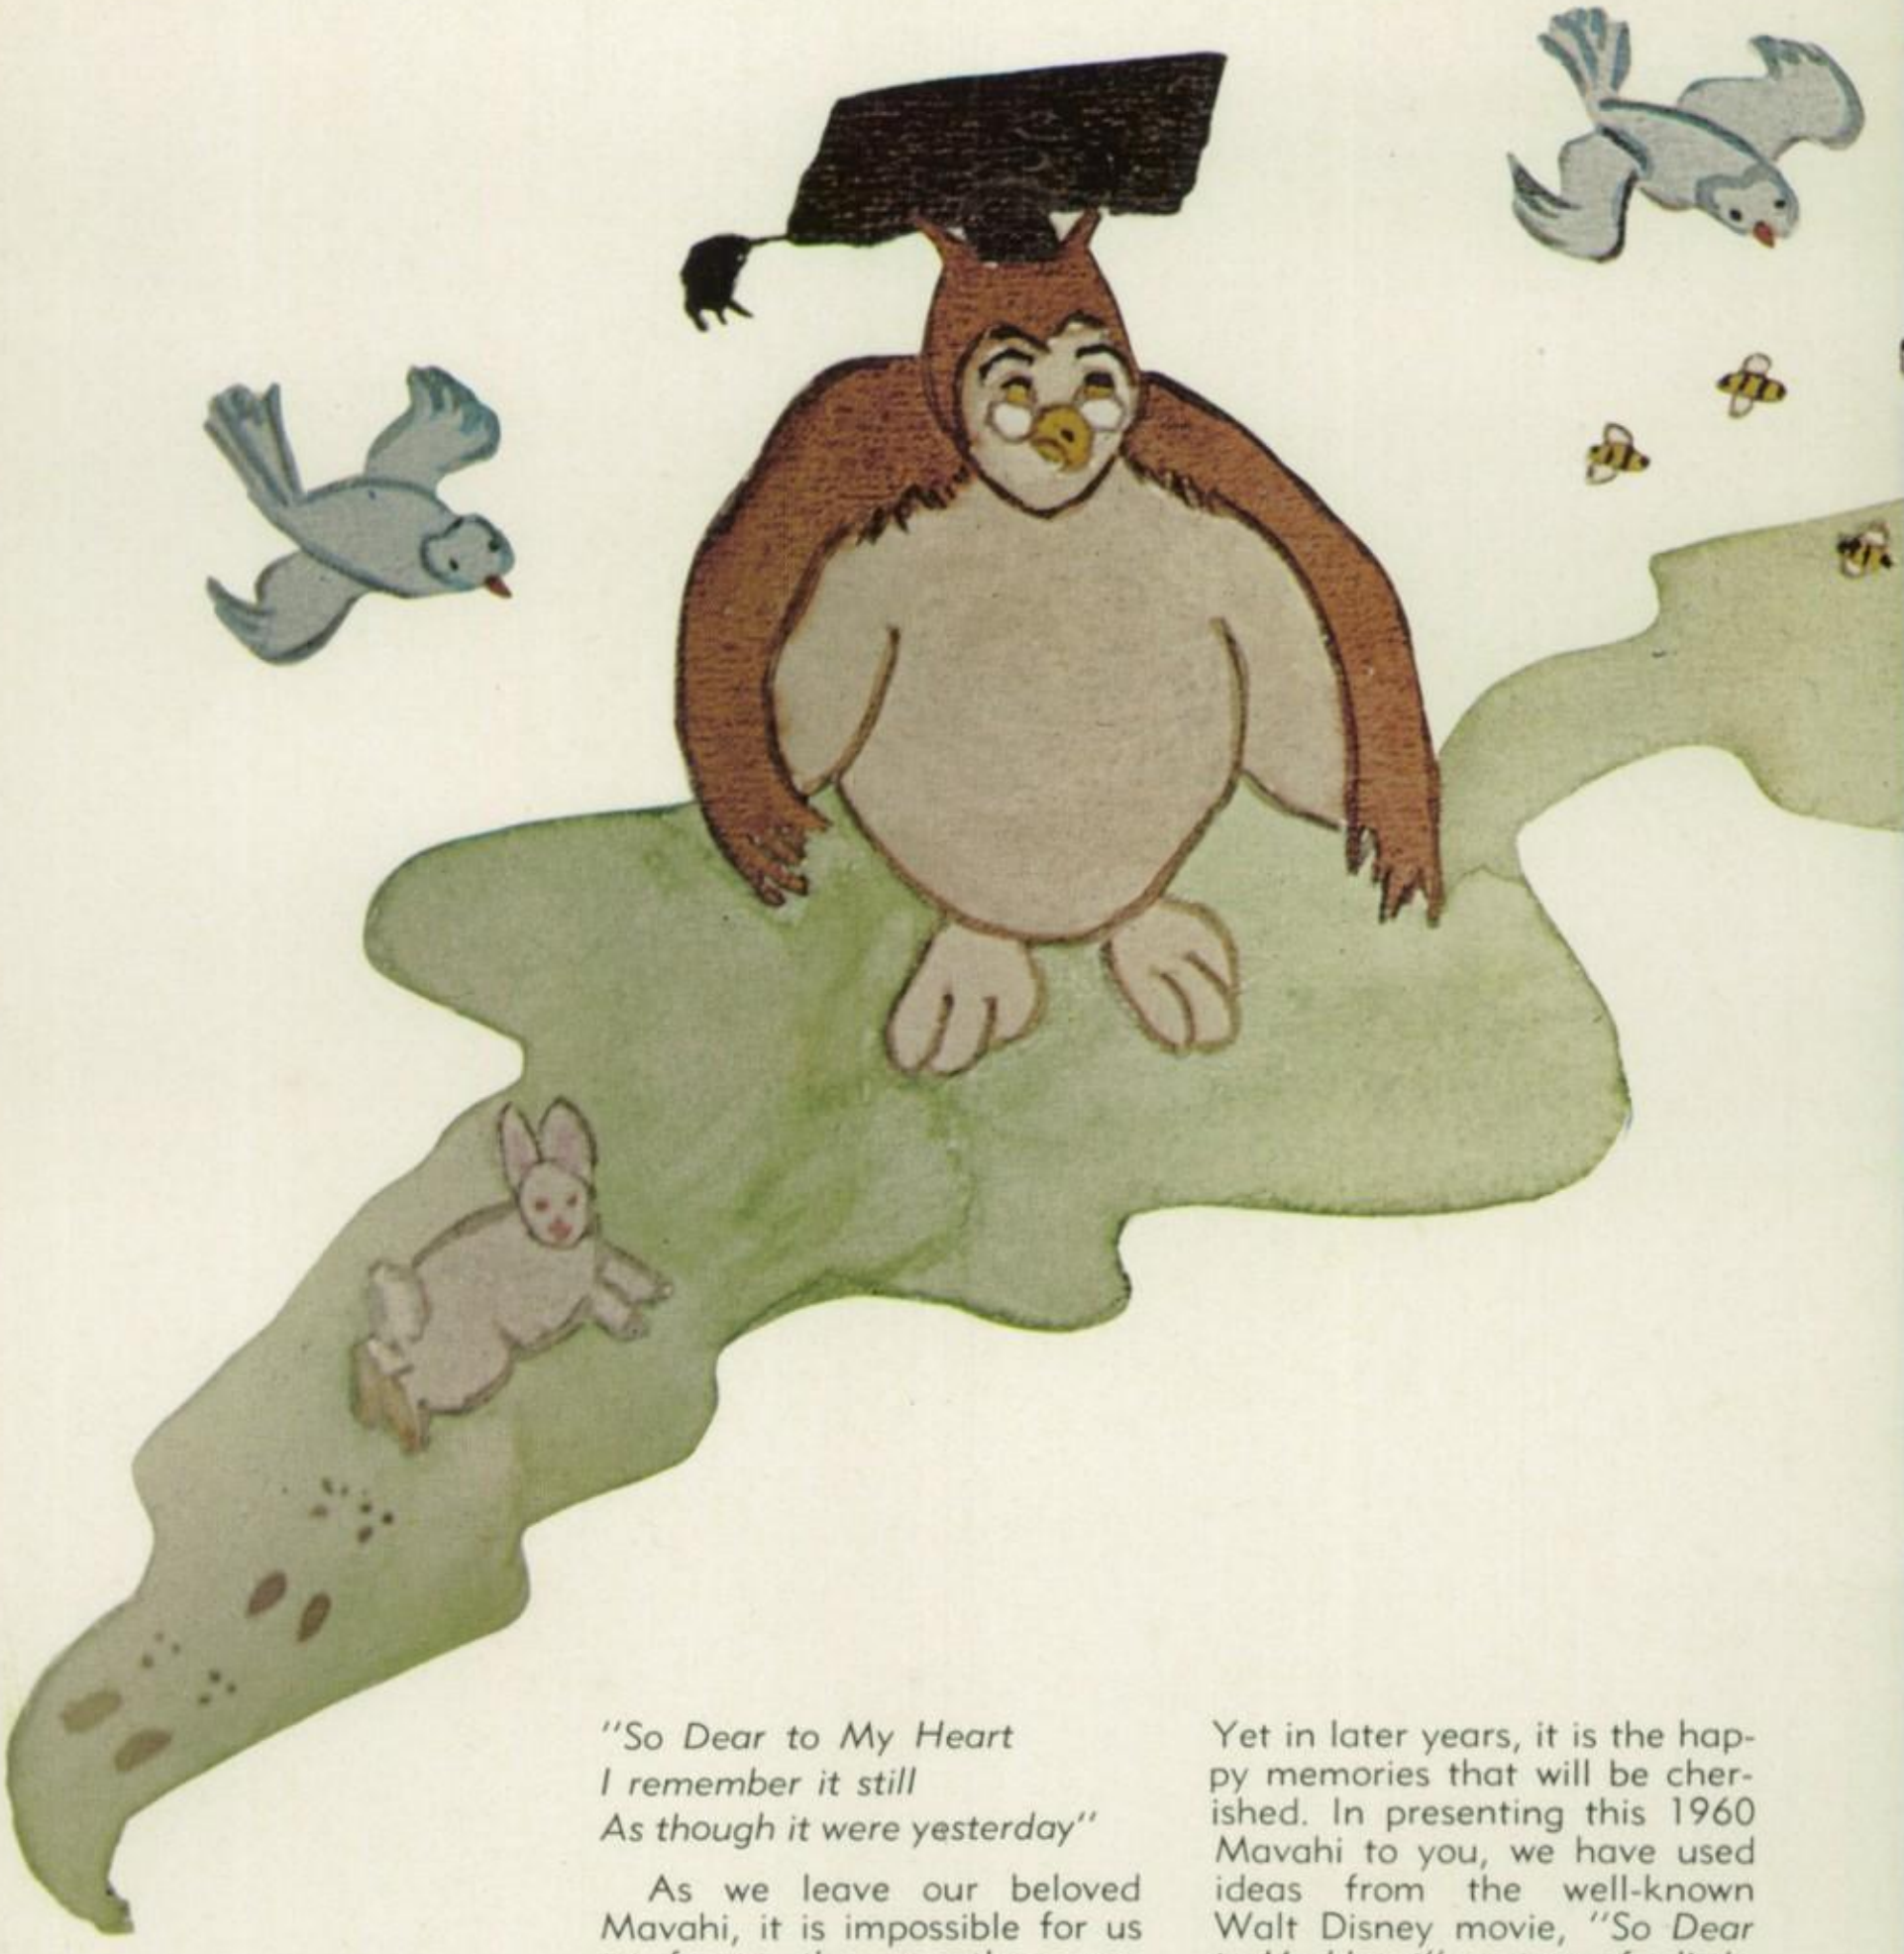
MAVAHI

THE 1960 MAVAHI

MARTINSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

Martinsville, Virginia

presents....



"So Dear to My Heart
I remember it still
As though it were yesterday"

As we leave our beloved Mavahi, it is impossible for us to forget the countless moments of pleasure and sadness. Yet in later years, it is the happy memories that will be cherished. In presenting this 1960 Mavahi to you, we have used ideas from the well-known Walt Disney movie, "So Dear to My Heart"; a story of a little boy who puts his hopes and dreams in a small black lamb, and the work and efforts that are necessary to produce a success—a champion.

This well may be compared to our past years in high school, for here we have had the opportunity to seek and gain knowledge that will help us to fulfill our dream of success.

In the following pages, we have tried to portray a full picture of the high school life which has made Martinsville High School "So Dear to Our Hearts."

My Heart"

We Dedicate...

In the past two years, one person has endeared himself to the Class of 1960. By giving more than his time, more than his energy, more than his ideas, indeed, by giving himself, he has guided and encouraged the members of the Senior Class during their two most important years. Try as we may, we can never fully express our love and appreciation to one who has done so much for our class. In hope of showing our gratitude in some small way, we have humbly dedicated the 1960 MAVAHI to Mr. Robert L. Goldman.

"I Remember It Still"

The familiar red-brick structure of our Mavahi is the first reminder of the years that have meant so much to us. So many memories do these walls hold; so many treasured hours have been spent behind the white front door and on the surrounding campus.

We remember still the brisk fall days when the front steps were full of brightly dressed students out to cheer at the pep rallies, and the warm spring days when the yard and steps were full of those who gathered to enjoy the warmth of the sun or the beauty of the green grass and the trees in full splendor.

The sound of laughter and the busy murmur of talk are not at all unusual sounds to be heard in and around Mavahi. There are the relaxed moments when friends meet friends and stop to share something of interest with each other. There are the more serious moments when the Senior first realizes that he is in his last year at Martinsville High School and begins to understand the importance of his position. There are the exciting moments when the Juniors and Seniors present their plays and the thrilling moments when the teams bring victory and honor to the school.

There are so many memories to remind us of our years at Mavahi—the expectancy as we first entered as eighth graders, the proud feeling that came with our freshman year, the hard work of our sophomore year, the eventful and fun-filled junior year, and finally the long-awaited, glorious senior year—all these hold invaluable experiences for each of us.

Through these years our hopes have grown and our dreams of the future have begun to materialize. Here in Martinsville High School our character has been molded and strengthened by the guidance of our teachers, and our understanding of mankind has been increased by our working with the members of the student body. All of this expresses the feeling we hold for our beloved school—the reason it is "So Dear to Our Hearts."

So Dear....

Although we will never be able to recall all of our experiences at Martinsville High School, we shall never forget the cherished friends and friendships that have made our high school years so valuable to us.

Because our class has grown close through working together during the past years, we can well be proud of our accomplishments and contributions to our school and our community. Yet, let us never forget the unlimited facilities offered by our school and the expert guidance of our beloved faculty and administration. The pupils learned during their first year at Mavahi the importance of co-operating with the faculty and with each other. Through continued efforts, the student body worked to gain the reputation and standards established by those who have come before us.

There are many things in Martinsville High School that merit a grand applause from students, from faculty, and from citizens of Martinsville. One will never cease to thrill at seeing our band perform and hearing it contribute to the field of good music and entertainment. For the senior members of the band this year was especially symbolic. The past holds for them, too, unforgettable moments—fun-filled trips to football games, participation in holiday parades, performances at Christmas and the Spring concerts, and the excitement of playing in district and state music festivals.

Music has played an important role in the enjoyment of our high school years. The band and the choir have done much in furthering both our music appreciation and our cultural education. This is but a small phase in our high school curriculum, yet it is an important asset in promoting a love for beauty and the fine arts.

"Where there's a will, there's a way to do it, but you won't get there if you don't stick to it." The truth of this was evident as we worked in our various classes to gain the knowledge that will someday help to fulfill our dreams of success. As we progressed from year to year, we began to realize the value of our classes and the important part they would play in our lives. In a day and age when education is foremost in the minds of the world, we were constantly reminded of our duty to ourselves and to our nation in taking advantage of our opportunities, of "sticking to" our goal. More than knowledge found in books have we gained at Mavahi, for here we have learned the greatest lesson of all—living with other people and benefiting from our association with them. This, above all, is the essence of true education.

The most important phase of extracurricular activities in our school life was the work in the various clubs. In organizations such as these we not only learned the importance of working together to accomplish a goal, but we were able to see clearly the needs of our community. Leadership is essential in obtaining the results that a club desires, but we must always remember that "it's what you do with what you've got that pays off in the end."

Although a project may not be carried out to perfection, if the members of the club have truly gained by their participation in the activity, it has been a definite success. Through learning the importance of being a good club member during high school, the adults of tomorrow will learn the meaning of co-operation and will be better equipped to meet the demands of society.

The fact that we were finally seniors was fully realized as we marched into assembly for the first time, and the traditional applause was begun by the underclassmen. Awareness of the responsibility that was ours overwhelmed us, and we were humbled at its true significance. After four years of learning and growing, we were finally the leaders of Martinsville High School—those who were respected and followed by the remainder of the student body.

Our senior year was a busy one, full of the various activities of work and play that accompanied our previous years. Still, this year held a greater importance to us as we endeavored to gain the final bits of knowledge that would prepare us for our future place in our community. Some of us planned for college, some of us prepared to enter the business profession, but all of us were eager to begin the quest for our lifetime goal.

"Old man Adversity is gonna have his bluff called, stick-to-it-tivity never lost a fight." Our high school education would have never been complete if we had not had the competition in sports to create school loyalty and the spirit of rivalry. Those seniors who were in someway directly connected with our teams realized the truth of the quote. Whether we won or lost, the real victory was in knowing that the game had been played well and the teams had "stuck to" their job. The cheerleaaers added color to the games and led the student section in cheers for the Martinsville Bulldogs. In this phase of our school life, we realized the appropriateness of the frequently quoted lines from one of the songs in "So Dear to My Heart." "If you've got that stuff called 'stick-to-it-tivity', you're gonna do all right."

"Lavinder Blue, dilly dilly, lavinder green; If I were king, dilly dilly, you'd be my queen." One of the most magical moments of our high school days was the long-awaited, much dreamed of Junior-Senior Dance. None of us will ever forget the thrill of anticipation as that night of nights drew near. As Juniors we worked diligently preparing and planning for this special occasion. As Seniors, we will always remember our Junior-Senior as the last big event before graduation. One of the most enjoyable parts of the dance was seeing our friends, who were normally dressed in school clothes, attired in their most formal wear; and we realized that this social event was really a part of our education in becoming adults. In gathering for a dance such as this, we gained a lesson in social adjustment.

One of the signs of an upperclassman is found on his hand in the form of a gold Martinsville High School ring. This ring partially symbolizes that a student has begun his last and most important year at Mavahi. The pride with which the ring is worn lives on even after a student leaves our school, and it will always be a reminder of his eventful years here. The significance of this ring cannot be measured in any one way as it represents a different idea to each individual student. To some it marks the beginning of the end of their high school career; to some it is a challenge to uphold the high standards set by our educational system; to others it is just a momento of their years spent in work and enjoyment at Martinsville High School.

"Hode-i, Hode-a, what a great big wonderful day." At last the final day arrives—the day that climaxes the years of study and learning. As we wear our caps and gowns, we are satisfied that our high school years have been successful, yet we are confronted with a sensation of uncertainty for what the future will hold. In the preceeding pages we have attempted to show in a small way how much our high school years have meant to us. Nothing remains to be said as no one will ever know what each of us feels in his heart about his experiences at Mavahi. The diploma we receive is truly a challenge as we leave our beloved school and face the future. Although our high school years are past, the memories still shine bright and, "as long as we live they will be So Dear to Our Hearts."

FACULTY

Administrative

Mr. M. L. Carper,
Superintendent

The students at Martinsville High School are fortunate to have Mr. M. L. Carper as the Superintendent of schools. Mr. Carper is very interested in the work the students at Mavahi are doing, and he is always eager to help them with their problems. From his trip to Europe, Mr. Carper gained a vast knowledge of other educational systems, which he has passed on to us, the students. Without his endless and untiring efforts reaching toward a better educational system, our high school would not be as outstanding as it is today. His office has required much behind-the-scenes work, and many of his duties have been carried out without the credit due him. We owe a vote of thanks to Mr. Carper for his excellent job.

Leaders

To provide the best possible educational program has been a sincere desire of Mr. John D. Richmond, principal at Martinsville High School. Mr. Richmond gives much thought to changes and improvements that can be made to help better our school curricula and facilities. He is deeply concerned about our future and devotes much time and effort to the task of helping us in our high school years to prepare for adult life. The city of Martinsville has also benefited from his administration, for Martinsville is known for its outstanding school system. Mavahi holds a place of honor among the schools in Virginia. Much of this is due to the leadership of Mr. Richmond, for the success of Mavahi is foremost to him.

"It's what you do with what you got . . ." This well-known song from "So Dear to My Heart" most certainly applies to the curricula at Mavahi.

The major goal of the English department is to teach pupils to think clearly and to express themselves correctly and effectively both in oral and written exercises. Literature helps the student increase his skill in reading and broaden his knowledge of literary history.

Students interested in mathematics find a challenging program of study at Martinsville High School. Courses ranging from general math to trigonometry, including two years of algebra, plane and solid geometry, train pupils in exact abstract thinking.

There are four units of science afforded the student, with general science the basic course. Biology allows the student to explore life about him, and in the realms of chemistry and physics, he studies the newly discovered facts of science.

The foreign language courses here are Latin, Spanish, and French. The purpose of each is to assist the student in acquiring basic skills in grammar, vocabulary, and speech, and to further understand the culture of the country studied.

The band and choir are composed of students interested in good music. At Christmas they entertain the community with a joint concert, as well as separate appearances during the year. In art classes both an appreciation of the masters and contemporary art is derived.

By offering courses in World History, United States History and Government, which cover a wide interval from the ancient age to present day world affairs, the department of social studies provides for students a real basis for perceptive interpretation and judgment in their future role as tomorrow's citizens.

Home Economics is primarily concerned with the growth of individuals as contributing members of families. The pupils learn that the spirit and manner of participating in home activities create the kind of atmosphere which encourages the most rewarding fulfillment of each person's life.

A student interested in the industrial arts program can take the basic classes in crafts, woodwork, and metalwork. Mechanical drawing and auto mechanics are devised for the college-bound student.

The physical education classes offer a varied program of activities. Both boys' and girls' classes participate in tumbling, tennis, volleyball, basketball, softball, and other group activities. At various intervals, the classes meet together for fun and social dancing.

Complete in itself, our library has an abundant number and an extensive range of books. Just by opening the volumes, one is admitted to the inherited knowledge of all ages.

The Guidance Department engages in an extensive testing program developed to determine students' abilities, interests, achievements, and aptitudes in various educational endeavors. Its ultimate job is to help students become more self-directive and capable of making wise choices and decisions.

To attempt to select a handful of people who contributed the most to the Class of 1960 was almost an impossible task. In a class such as ours, it is difficult to decide who has given the greatest time and effort to his school. As is the custom, however, the members of the Senior Class voted by secret ballot to decide upon the six girls and six boys whom they felt had given much of themselves to Martinsville High School in leadership and in work. When the ballots were tabulated these twelve members of the graduating class had been chosen by their classmates as those who had been outstanding as club and class officers, as athletes, as scholars, and as school leaders. These Seniors, throughout their high school years, have striven to serve their class and their school; thus, they have gained the devotion and respect of their fellow students in their efforts to uphold the standards set before them, and have contributed unselfishly to the success of the Class of 1960.

Mavahi Literary Staff

Throughout the year the Mavahi Literary Staff, composed of the Senior editors and the Junior trainees, who hope to gain valuable experience for their 1961 annual, has put considerable time and effort into the publication of the 1960 Mavahi. By planning the dummy, collecting information and pictures pertaining to the various organizations in our school, keeping an accurate record of sporting events, and writing copy for our yearbook, the staff has produced this finished copy of the 1960 Mavahi. This publication, however, would have never been possible without the efforts of Andy Foley, who spent many hours of work on the photography, and the help and guidance of Mrs. Frances Milstead, who has worked untiringly as sponsor of our staff.

Mavahi Business Staff

The Mavahi Business Staff, headed by Elizabeth Simmons and sponsored by Emmett Schufflebarger, has worked diligently to finance this, the 1960 Mavahi. With endless determination and initiative, the members of the staff began their tasks of selling ads and planning the ad dummy. Each member contacted several business organizations of Martinsville and surrounding communities, and after careful planning and work, they sold numerous ads. Not only did the members of the business staff gain invaluable experience in financing, good salesmanship, and public relations, but also they developed new concepts for selling and advertising.

To the circulation staff, a part of the business staff, belongs the job of the supervision and distribution of the completed annuals.

The Barker

In publishing our school paper, The Barker staff has presented the student body with an accurate, up-to-date account of school activities. The staff has not only written the articles but also has sold the ads and circulated the monthly editions of the paper. Entertaining articles and pictures have made The Barker a paper to be read by the entire student body. That it is circulated at no cost to the students is only one of the most outstanding characteristics of the paper. Another interesting feature of the paper is the student photography exhibited throughout the newspaper. The staff published eight editions during the year. By working at different jobs on the paper, the members of the staff have acquainted themselves with all phases of newspaper work. Representatives from the staff were sent to the SIPA convention in Lexington.

Girls work diligently to meet their write-up deadlines.

Student Council

The main link between the faculty and the student body is the Student Council. Representatives elected from each class make up the membership. The Council is the student representative organization to conduct and lead school activities. In November, members of the Council attended the District meeting held at Fieldale High School. The Council also sponsored the White Christmas Assembly and was in charge of football Homecoming and the Sweetheart Ball. The bulletin board in the front hall was arranged throughout the year by a committee of the Student Council. Control of the cafeteria lines was a project for the year and a "Pick-Em-Up-Pardner-Week" clean-up campaign was also held. The Council's sponsor was Miss Mary Jane Powell.

Omega Tri-Hi-Y

The purpose of the Omega Tri-Hi-Y Club is "to create, maintain, and extend, throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character." In fulfilling their purpose, the Tri-Hi-Y members participated in many worthwhile activities throughout the year. Devotions were given in the mornings before the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter holidays. Members solicited for the United Fund and helped collect for the Emergency Polio Drive. The club helped a needy family on various occasions during the year. Suzanne West, president of the local club, also served as president of the District Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Meeting, which was held here at Mavahi. Kay Ascough, service committee chairman, was elected secretary of our district. A semi-formal dance was given by the club as a fund-raising project and box lunches were prepared, sold, and delivered to local merchants. This year the Omega Tri-Hi-Y has spread its influence throughout the community.

Alpha Tri-Hi-Y

The Alpha Tri-Hi-Y Club, composed of freshmen and sophomore girls, met twice a month. The club joined with the Omega Tri-Hi-Y for its programs.

The purpose of this club is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character.

Two assemblies were presented during the school year by this club; one was at Thanksgiving, the other at Easter. Services of the members extended beyond the home, school, and community, when the club participated in a World Service project.

The Alpha Tri-Hi-Y members acted as hostesses with the Omega Tri-Hi-Y and the Boys' Hi-Y, for the District Hi-Y meeting which was held at Martinsville High School, October 29, 1959.

All interested boys in grades 9-12 may become members of the Boys' Hi-Y. Its purpose is the same as that of the Tri-Hi-Y clubs: To create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character.

During the year, the members were kept busy participating in various service projects. As is traditional, the Boys' Hi-Y sponsored the annual White Christmas Assembly by asking all members of the student body to bring gifts and food which was distributed to needy families.

Other big projects undertaken by the Boys' Hi-Y included fund-raising campaigns whose proceeds went to the Youth Center. Also the members distributed hand bills to promote interest in this cause.

As always, the members of the Key Club have aided the school by promoting many service projects this year. The annual project of serving both Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners in the cafeteria was again handled excellently by the club members. The boys helped to clean up the Lee Ford Camp as one of their many beneficial projects. By sponsoring a faculty basketball game, the club created a very enjoyable evening for many Mavahi students and teachers.

The club held a dance with all proceeds going to charity. The Key Club strives to create in its members an initiative to serve both school and community.

F.B.L.A.

The potential shown by the Future Business Leaders of America in our school has impressed everyone with the fact that this club prepares its members for positions in the business world. Dress and hair styles appropriate for the office were modeled during club meetings. Decorations for the office during the Christmas season, duties of office workers reported by graduates of Vocational Office Training and the Office Etiquette Program sponsored by the National Secretaries Association were some of the interesting programs presented during the year. To receive instruction in the use and operation of various business machines, the members of the F.B.L.A. visited the Martinsville Office Supply. Some of the club members attended the regional meeting at Radford College, the delegate meeting at Roanoke, and the state convention at Massanetta.

With the constant endeavor of all club members, the F.B.L.A. has furthered the business knowledge and skills of its members.

F.H.A.

The enthusiasm shown by the members of the Future Homemakers of America Club has encouraged and furthered interest in home economics. Each month a program was presented which dwelt on different phases of homemaking. Outstanding programs featured a lecture by a local jeweler on the selection of china, crystal, and silver; and a panel of home economists who discussed careers. Holiday parties were also planned and given by the club. The various service projects included working with the Cancer Society making cancer pads, and working at the Snack Bar in the hospital on Saturdays and Sundays. Members also worked with certain phases of the polio drive. The club offered its services to other community organizations to serve as waitresses for banquets given by these clubs. Also club members served as hostesses to the college representatives during College Day.

The purpose of the Future Teachers of America has been to learn more about the teaching profession and to enable each member to explore his interest in relationship to the various fields of teaching. The group cultivated qualities which are essential in good teachers and learned where to receive training. During the year the members of the F. T.A. were kept busy participating in various projects, sending birthday cards to Mayahi teachers, and aiding with civic drives such as the Polio, Cancer, Poppy Sale, and the United Fund Drives. A day was set aside for the group to visit retired teachers in the vicinity, and a needy family was helped throughout the year.

The Delta Kappa Gamma, national educational fraternity, held an open meeting for interested F.T.A. members to attend here in Martinsville.

Future Nurses' Club

Showing much interest in their chosen profession, the members of the Future Nurses Club participated in many useful projects for both the school and the community. During October the club sponsored a Halloween party for the students of the School for Special Children. During the Christmas season, the members of the FNC gave baskets of food and clothing to a needy family. Giving a Valentine party at the School for Special Children and fixing favors for the children's ward at Martinsville General Hospital were the projects for February. Service projects for the year included helping with the Cancer, Heart, and Polio drives. To acquaint and familiarize themselves with the different fields of nursing, the members of the Future Nurses Club toured the Medical College of Virginia.

By their diligent work the members of this club have created an interest among the girls of Mavahi in the different fields of nursing.

National Thespian Society

This year the Thespian Society has loaned its assistance to out-of-school functions as well as to school dramatic productions. Members have helped with the Civic Music Association by aiding the performers during the productions.

During the Junior and Senior plays, the Thespians assisted with make-up, props, and sets.

Besides aiding other clubs and classes, the Thespian Society, which is composed of many capable personnel, produced several plays. They gave two one-act plays before the student body in assembly, and also presented four one-act plays for the public.

One of the most enjoyable projects of the Thespian Society was the Thespian Lounge. The Thespians decorated and furnished one of the rooms adjoining the auditorium. This room has become one of the most popular places in school for Thespians with a few minutes in which to relax.

Library Club

The Library Club has rendered invaluable assistance to the librarians and to the school. Helping with the checking out and the returning of books, the members of the club learned the fundamentals of operating a library. Every day at least one member was on duty in the library, assisting students in finding reading materials or reference literature.

The club participated in many service projects during the year. The members rendered clerical assistance to the T. B. office and gave a Christmas basket for a needy family. Other projects included programs at the meetings and periodically checking lockers for overdue books. Throughout the year the club members have arranged attractive bulletin boards with the latest literary materials to make the library more attractive.

French Club

The French Club has sought to stimulate interest in French culture by a variety of projects and programs. A supper of various French dishes was planned and effectively carried out.

The French Club also sponsored a dance which proved to be a big success and a most popular event.

In addition to these larger projects, the French Club also attempted to familiarize the students with the French language by posting French proverbs in the hall. They aided in school clean-up campaigns. The French club sponsored a French Coffee Day at which time they served coffee in the teacher's lounge; at lunch everyone enjoyed the menu of French foods served in the cafeteria.

Spanish Club

To create an interest in the culture of the Spanish-speaking people was the aim of the Spanish Club. The club has extended throughout the school a feeling of respect and friendship toward the Pan American countries. This year Pan American Day was celebrated with much enthusiasm by all the students in school. Dolls dressed in Spanish costumes, flags, and posters decorated the school halls on Pan American Day. During the year members of the club enjoyed several Spanish suppers and the annual Spanish dance was given in the spring.

Other projects included sponsoring a dance after a football game, assisting with the local United Fund Drive, presenting an assembly for the student body, and entertaining the School for Special Children with a Halloween Party.

Latin Club

To stimulate more interest in Latin and to derive a better understanding of the ancient Romans and their culture were the main objectives of the Latin Club.

Membership in the Latin Club was composed of Latin II students and those enrolled in Latin I who had an "A" average at mid-term. Throughout the year many projects were undertaken by the Latin Club. One of the more outstanding service projects was the Good Manners Campaign, during which many attractive bulletin boards and posters were prepared and displayed by the club members. Two of the most enjoyable social events were the Latin Club dance held following a basketball game and the Roman Circus—one of the more ingenious and unusual activities of the year.

Culminating the year's activities was a banquet, featuring Roman cuisine, decorations, and a Latin atmosphere.

Mavahi.. Quips

Through the pages of the Mavahi literary magazine darts a little character named Quips. Quips is the jolly mascot who cleverly illustrates selections throughout the magazine.

Staff members assisting Quips are selected by their ability and interest in creative writing. This year the magazine staff included eight members.

This year's staff set a goal of surpassing the quality and volume of previous issues. Their ambition was fulfilled through two outstanding publications instead of the usual one.

Each year, more students become interested in this relatively new organization. Many art students join the art staff and do commendable work on each center piece and cover. Each student who has written a selection for the magazine feels unique pride in his published work. It is the desire of the staff that the Mavahi Quips will give to each student the initiative to do more and better creative work.

D.E. Club

One of the main objectives of the Distributive Education Club has been to develop leadership and good selling techniques in its members. The purpose of the D. E. Club is to promote an interest in practical retailing and in distributive education. Members have worked at many local retail establishments during the past year. The club has tried to find ways to promote a better working relationship between customers and employees and to acquaint the student with opportunities and advancements in retailing. These plans have been carried out by attendance at D. E. conventions; several members attended the district club meeting, the state D. E. convention and the national D. E. convention. Under the sponsorship of Kenneth Britts the club tried in many ways to fulfill its objectives.

D.O. Club

The D. O. Club is composed of students who are enrolled in the Diversified Occupations classes. During this past year members of the D. O. Club gained on-the-spot training in various lines of work. Under the sponsorship of Tom Burnette the club played a vital role in creating the true "spirit of Mavahi" and exhibited it to the public. Discussions and interesting programs were prepared for the club meetings. The D. O. meetings were held in Martinsville, but students also attended various regional and district meetings. At these meetings D. O. members took advantage of their opportunity to achieve D. O. goals of developing poise and self-expression.

MUSIC

Band

The band's performance at football games, parades, and concerts during the past year has been an obvious indication of the superb ability of the director and members in the field of music.

The performances at football games gave an air of excitement and intensified the spirit of the students of Mavahi. The Homecoming football game was the climax to the home games for this year. For this reason the band worked its hardest in presenting a memorable performance for those who came back to see their Alma Mater and those for whom it would be their last Homecoming as students of Mavahi.

The Christmas Concert was the first concert of the year and was welcomed by the members of the community. The annual Spring Concert and concert for the student body were also most successful. The band's participation in All-State Band and District Music Festival helped prove that their band work was not in vain. The District Music Festival was the climax to the concert season.

Through the patient, untiring efforts of Ralph E. Shank, the band has brought to a close another wonderful year of music.

CHOIR

The vocal harmony of the high school choir made evident the long and hard hours of practicing for director and members during this school year.

The choir, under the direction of Miss Ruth Pace, and accompanied by Sarah Kirk, is an eighty-member vocal group. It has participated in many student assemblies, and during the Christmas Concert the choir shared the program with the band.

During the year the Girls' Ensemble, composed of girls from the choir, entertained at many civic meetings in the community. This group is also under the direction of Miss Pace.

The spring brought with its birds and flowers the District Music Festival where the choir had a chance to test its ability in competition with choirs from all over their district. The All-West Chorus gave the individual members

The band, under the direction of Mr. John Creger, performed for the junior varsity football games. It also played for the Christmas parade to get the holiday season off to a good start.

The Junior Band entered the District Music Festival to be judged with other bands of this district. Members also displayed their individual skills in the All-State Band try-outs.

Mr. John Creger's working with the Junior Band this past year has shown that talent need only be developed to become an art.

Junior and Senior Plays

SENIOR PLAY

The annual Senior Play was presented March 4 and 5 on Friday and Saturday nights. The class chose "Inherit the Wind" with a cast of 40 under the direction of Robert Goldman.

Actual casting began in early December, followed by many afternoon and night rehearsals. Various appointed committees such as sets, props, publicity, and make-up, contributed behind-the-scene effects.

"Inherit the Wind" is based upon the trial of John Scopes which took place in 1925. The lawyers were William Jennings Bryan and Clarence Darrow. Some of the characters of the play were related to the colorful figures in that battle of giants, but they had life and language of their own—and, therefore, pseudo names.

Bertram Cates (John Scopes) was arrested for teaching the theory of evolution but Henry Drummond (Clarence Darrow), lawyer for the defense, upheld this right. Matthew Harrison Brady (William Jennings Bryan) led the prosecution and eventually won the case. The drama tells of the collision of these two heroes in that famous "monkey trial."

JUNIOR PLAY

The Junior Class chose as its class play the Pulitzer prize-winning Broadway hit, "You Can't Take It With You", by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman. This production, given on Friday and Saturday, the 20th and 21st of November was under the direction of Miss Martha Anthony and Robert Goldman. The play climaxed weeks of planning, preparation, and rehearsal on a production that skyrocketed Hart and Kaufman to the top ranks of American playwrights back in the 30's.

"You Can't Take It With You" is a satire on the American way of life. It depicts a rather unusual family, the Sycamores, who are not rich material-wise, but rich in humor and love. When the daughter wants to marry, this family is pitted against its opposite, the Kirbys, wealthy in money and the things money can buy, but lacking in the closeness of a real family. As the play progresses the Kirbys learn to accept the simpler way of life and not to hold such store in material things, because "You Can't Take It With You."

Junior-Senior Dance

"Moonglow" was used as an effective theme at the annual Junior-Senior Dance on May 22, 1959. It was beautifully carried out by drapings of blended blue and silver extending from the rafters to the walls. A massive circular moon was suspended from the center of the ball room and lent an ethereal atmosphere. Blue lights cast shadows upon the dancers and glittering silver paper moons were hung above the mantels and on the curtains. The refreshment table was also in harmony with the theme, and Juniors and Seniors returned home with "Moonglow" napkins as a souvenir of a wonderful night.

John Swezey examines the "Moonglow" napkins that were part of the decorations carrying out the theme.

Dancing under the moon.

"It must have been Moonglow."

Talk flows freely, adding to the enjoyment of the night.

Eddie Allen, with his ten piece orchestra and vocalist, provided enjoyable music and entertainment for all those present. All during the evening the floor was filled with enthusiastic dancers, and every type of dance routine was exhibited.

Perhaps one of the loveliest parts of the dance was seeing the girls in their flowing pastel gowns and the boys in their most formal attire. The entire evening produced memories that will be cherished forever.

M.H.S.—Byrd, September 4

In the opener, Mavahi and William Byrd fought to a 12-12 tie. Early in the game the Terriers scored when quarterback Kon passed to Moore in the end zone. The extra point failed. In the second half Connelly and Westfall led the Bulldogs to the one where Westfall went over. Again the point failed. Byrd scored on another pass to Moore but Noel Gilbert ran back the kick-off eighty yards for a touchdown. There was no more scoring.

M.H.S.—Morehead, September 11

In the second game of the season at Ben Ramsey Field, the Martinsville Bulldogs defeated a favored Morehead High School 6-0. This win avenged the 9-0 loss the Bulldogs suffered at the hands of the Panthers last year. With the ball on the Morehead sixteen yard line, fourth and ten, Charlie Wyatt hit Billy Ellis in the end zone with a beautiful bullet pass. The Panthers immediately began to drive and were on the Bulldogs three yard line when the game ended.

M.H.S.—D.M., September 18

On September 18, the Bulldogs stomped Drewry Mason 39-6. With the speedy running of Westfall, Connelly, and Manson, and the passing of Wyatt, the Bulldogs proved too powerful and too sharp for the inexperienced Spartans. Wyatt hit Ellis with a thirty-five yard pass for the first touchdown. After a few plays Dan Manson fumbled and Barry Tinsley recovered. On the second play Westfall went forty yards for the touchdown. After the Spartans punted, Henry Wall went twenty-five yards for another touchdown. We scored by Connelly and Manson. Barry Westfall made three conversions.

M.H.S.—Pulaski, September 25

On September 25, the Bulldogs celebrated Homecoming by walloping the Pulaski Orioles 46-0. After receiving the opening kickoff the Big Red marched straight down the field with Connelly carrying. After taking a punt, Mahavi scored again with Westfall going thirty-five yards for the touchdown. The third touchdown was scored on a Wyatt-to-Ellis pass. After Pulaski punted, Wall scored for Mavahi. Barry Westfall converted on his first four attempts. The touchdowns in the second half were scored by Connelly, Wall and Prillaman.

M.H.S.—Wytheville, October 2

On October 2, Mavahi defeated the Wythe Maroons 21-0 in a game marred by penalties and a second half free-for-all. The Big Red took the opening kickoff and moved to the ten where Connelly scored. In the second quarter Wyatt sneaked for a touchdown. Westfall converted after both scores for a 14-0 lead. The only score in the second half came on a pass from Wyatt to Wall. Westfall's kick made the score 21-0. Arnoult, Tinsley, and Rist were outstanding in the line.

M.H.S.—Covington, October 9

On October 9, the Bulldogs smashed Covington 31-0. On the sixth play of the game Connelly scored. After taking a punt the Big Red moved to the eight where Charlie Wyatt scored. The most spectacular play of the game came in the second period when Barry Tinsley deflected a Cougar pass, grabbed it, and went forty-eight yards for a touchdown. Westfall's conversion made the score 19-0. In the second half Jim Connelly spearheaded a drive and took the ball over from eleven yards out. The final tally came on a Dave Monohon-to-Noel Gilbert pass.

M.H.S.—Fleming, October 16

On October 16, the Bulldogs romped over William Fleming 35-0. Martinsville received the opening kickoff and marched down the field to score with Connelly going over from the four. Barry Westfall kicked the first of his five perfect conversions. After Mavahi held Fleming on their nine, they drove to their own forty-eight where Connelly ran fifty-two yards for another touchdown. In the third period Wyatt threw a fourteen yard touchdown pass to Ellis. The final two touchdowns were scored by Wyatt and Schreibfeder.

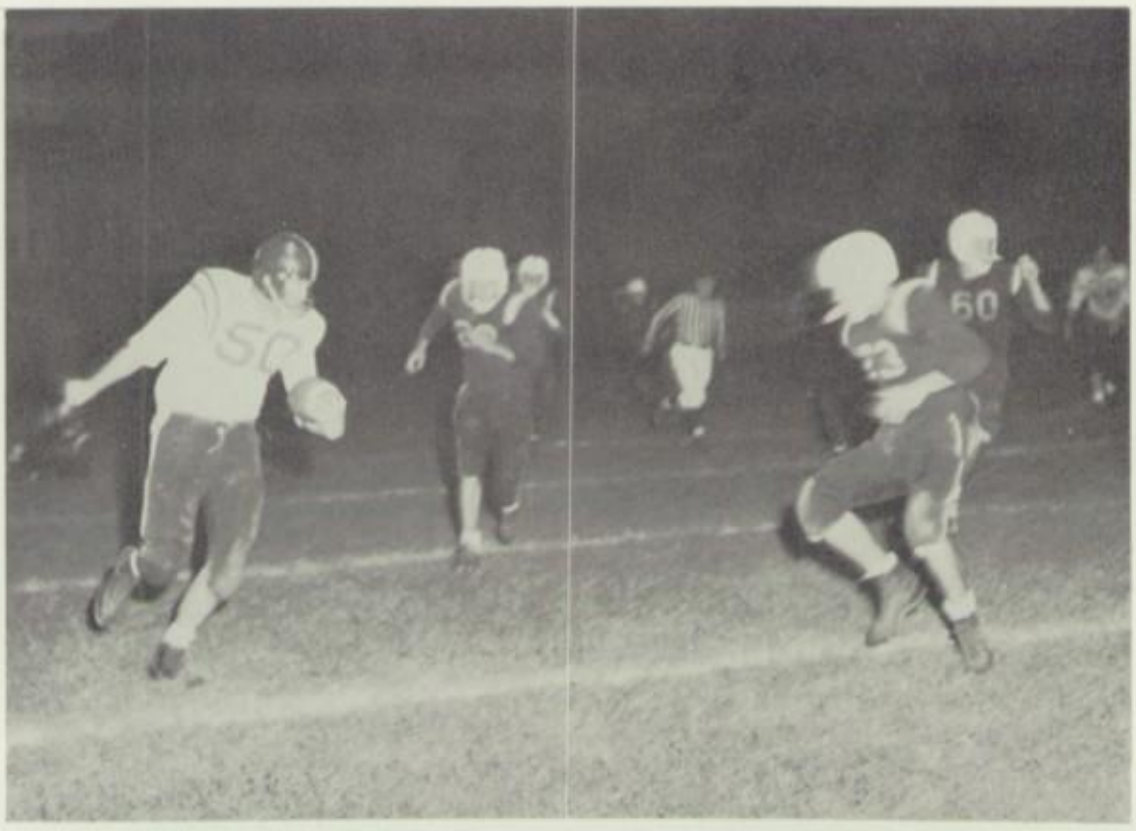
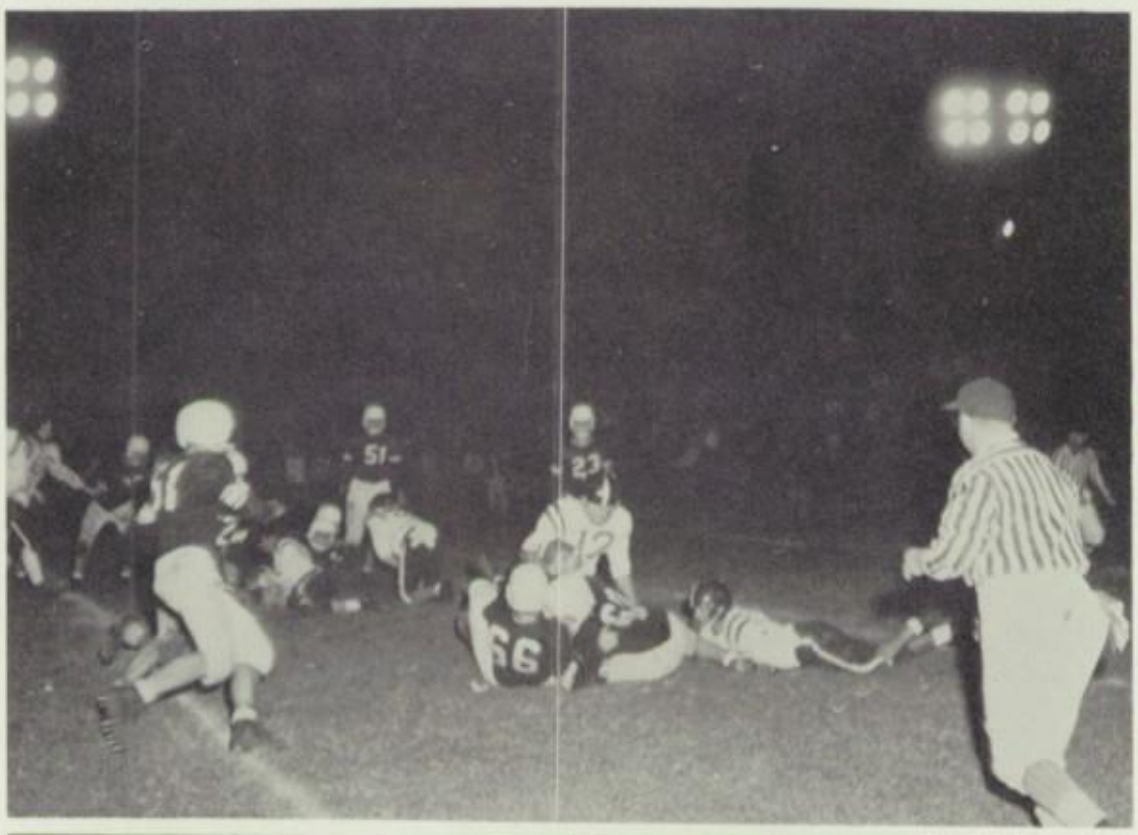
M.H.S.—G.W., October 23

In the last game of the season at Ben Ramsey Field, Mavahi defeated George Washington 13-0 in a mud-drenched game. In the steady downpour many fumbles occurred. The Bulldogs received the opening kickoff and in four plays moved to the Cardinal thirty-three. From there Connelly broke away for a touchdown. The extra point attempt was no good. In the fourth quarter Fred Robbins recovered a fumble on the Cardinal twenty. After moving to the four, Connelly scored and also added the extra point.



M.H.S.—Radford, October 30

On October 31, the Radford Bobcats defeated the Bulldogs in a hard fought game on the Radford field 13-7. After trailing 7-0 Henry Wall took a pass from Charlie Wyatt and went thirty-five yards for a touchdown. Barry Westfall converted to tie the score at 7-7. This was the score at halftime. In the second half Barry Westfall broke away on a long touchdown run, but it was called back on account of clipping. Radford scored late in the game to ice a victory.



M.H.S.—Dublin, November 6

Martinsville dumped the powerful Dublin Dukes 19-0 to close out a successful season. After recovering a fumble on the Dublin forty-four the big Red marched for a score. A Wyatt-to-Prillaman pass put the ball on the three where Westfall scored. After the Dukes were held, they were forced to punt. Barry Westfall took the ball on his own forty-eight where he returned it fifty-two yards for another Mavahi touchdown. Westfall's conversion made it 13-0. In the final quarter Westfall scored his third touchdown on a nineteen-yard burst.

A fifty-seven yard run by Don Wilder and a forty-one yard run by Walter Whitlow highlighted a 12-0 victory over the Bassett Baby Bengals in the last game our sophomores could play. Track

And they're off!

Up and over.

The Martinsville High School Track Team, coached by Johnny Hill, showed a great improvement as it participated in four meets, winning one. The thinclads, practicing daily at the North Martinsville School, developed their abilities not only in the track events, but also in the shot put, broad jump, and high jump.

The Bulldogs first went to Blacksburg when they attended the V.P.I. Relays. Andrew Lewis of Salem, defending champion for the past two years, scored 36 points in winning. Placing second was Jefferson Senior of Roanoke with 19 points, followed by Washington and Lee of Arlington with 15, and George Washington of Danville with 7. Although M. H. S. failed to place, many of the participants showed up well.

At G. W. High School on April 16, the Bulldogs were defeated 85-26 by the Cardinals of Danville. Raymond Joyce hurled the discus 123 feet 5½ inches to set a new Danville record. Ellis was second in the discus while Prillaman won the mile run. Others placing for Mavahi were Disney, third in the shot put; and the relay team composed of Liverman, Rist, Schriebfeder, and Manson, which placed second.

In their third meet, the Big Red defeated the Franklin County Eagles. Manson, with two first-place finishes, and Rist, also with two firsts, paced the Bulldogs with 10 points apiece. Manson won the 100 and 220 while Rist took the broad jump and high jump. Prillaman, with a first place, a second, and a third, was second with 9 points. Ellis was the winner in the discus throw.

In their final meet of the season, M.H.S. was defeated in a triangular meet by Andrew Lewis and Pulaski. Manson paced the Bulldogs with two first places, scoring 10 points. Prillaman had a second place finish and a fourth. Ellis won the discus, while Joyce placed fourth.

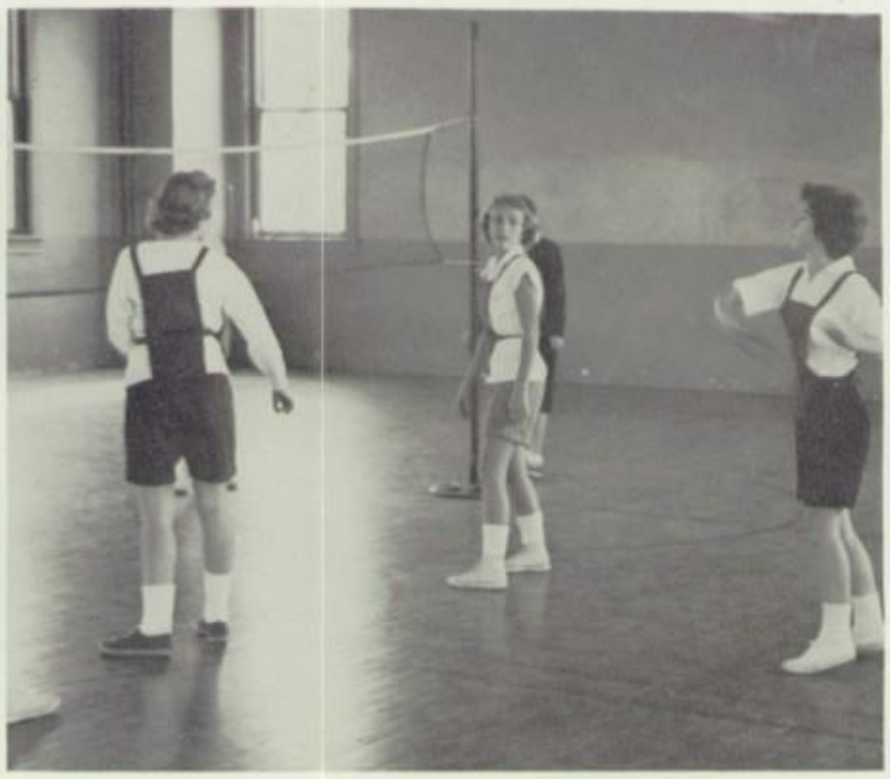
Girls' Physical Education

Follow the birdie.



A fast serve.

There are no organized sports for girls at Martinsville High Scohol. Eighth grade, freshman, and sophomore girls are required to take physical education. That the girls might acquaint themselves with all sports, a varied program is provided. In the spring and fall girls play softball, hockey, soccer, and speedball. The girls rotate in playing tennis and during the colder months basketball is played in the girls' gym. Indoor games include kickball and deck tennis. Calisthenics are also taken. Volleyball is another cold weather sport. Instruction is given in archery and badminton. Often exercising is done to music or tumbling skills are perfected. Each Friday the boys' physical education classes join the girls' classes for social dancing.

Freedom Isn't "Free"

Our graduates have an opportunity to enjoy a life of freedom, plenty and individual choice — privileges earned by our forefathers.

However, we have a responsibility to perpetuate these privileges. They are not given us "for free". We must earn them ourselves. Individual devotion to The American Way is as important today as it was in 1776.

Today's graduates must shoulder this responsibility, or there will be no freedoms to bequeath tomorrow's students.

As Goethe, the poet, said, "What you have inherited from your fathers, earn over again for yourselves or it will not be yours."

The Support Of Its Advertisers.

THANK YOU!

Acknowledgments

We sincerely extend our appreciative thanks to the many persons and firms who have so generously given their unrewarded efforts toward the production of this yearbook:

Mrs. Frances Milstead for her untiring help and guidance in producing the 1960 Mavahi.

Mr. Andrew Foley for his wonderful work on the photography for this yearbook, and to Don Zachery for his assistance to Mr. Foley.

The Student Body, Faculty, and Administration for their fine support and their splendid cooperation.

The Business Manager, Elizabeth Simmons, and the Circulation Manager, Pat Parsons, for their expert leadership and excellent work.

The Literary, Business, and Circulation staffs for their hard work, patience, and cooperation in making the 1960 Mavahi.

The Delmar Company for printing our book.

The Kingscraft Company for the work on our cover.

By special permission the theme of this yearbook has been based upon, and the illustrations have been adopted from the original Walt Disney illustrations from the Walt Disney motion picture SO DEAR TO MY HEART, copyright 1949, Walt Disney Productions.

Miss Lady Clark, librarian of the Stuart Public Library, for securing the book SO DEAR TO MY HEART for our use.

We have presented to you the memories of happy years at Mavahi. If you relive a portion of these years each time you open this book, we shall have accomplished our purpose.

To next year's editors, business manager, and circulation manager, we wish the greatest success and a staff as loyal and competent as our own.
